

LOC Software and Toshiba Partner to Provide a Complete, Best-In-Class Solution

Retailers today face unprecedented complexity: balancing customer experience, operational efficiency, and technology management across every touchpoint. LOC Software and Toshiba have partnered for more than a decade to simplify this challenge. Together, we deliver a proven combination of LOC's flexible, unified retail software and Toshiba's trusted, high-performance hardware to create complete, scalable solutions that empower retailers to run smarter stores.

One Platform. Every Touchpoint.

LOC's ThriVersA platform unites front-end, back-office, self-service, and mobile operations into a single, browser-based environment. When paired with Toshiba's POS, self-checkout, and mobile devices, retailers gain an agile, future-ready infrastructure that adapts to every business model, from grocery and natural food to convenience and specialty retail. This joint solution enables:

- Seamless interoperability between all store systems, reducing complexity and improving data accuracy.
- Flexible deployment options, including on-premises or cloud, to align with each retailer's operational goals.
- Hardware freedom, allowing ThriVersA to run on any Toshiba platform without compromise in performance or user experience.

Built for Retailers Who Expect More

For more than 30 years, LOC Software has developed technology that helps merchants thrive. ThriVersA was built from the ground up for adaptability, allowing retailers to choose the precise modules they need to optimize workflows across POS, eCommerce, inventory, merchandising, and customer engagement. Paired with Toshiba's reliable hardware, this partnership delivers a fast, intuitive front-end experience that scales effortlessly across checkout types, from traditional lanes and kiosks to mobile devices that empower staff with real-time sales, service, and line-busting capabilities. Together, LOC and Toshiba provide retailers with a modern, customer-centric experience that enhances efficiency and builds loyalty.

Local Expertise, National Reach

LOC's nationwide network of certified regional partners combines deep technical knowledge with an understanding of local business dynamics. Each partner is fully certified by both LOC and Toshiba, capable of providing customization, deployment, and multi-tiered support. This model ensures every retailer has a single point of contact for all hardware and software needs, delivering responsive, personalized service and long-term relationships built on trust and performance.

A Proven Partnership Delivering Proven Results

LOC and Toshiba have collaborated for more than a decade to validate the newest retail hardware, giving retailers confidence in every deployment. Together, the two companies offer a unified ecosystem that simplifies implementation, enhances uptime, and reduces total cost of ownership. The result is a proven, integrated solution that streamlines store operations, elevates the shopper experience, and delivers lasting value through reliable innovation.
